

CORBETT WINS.

bled. Corbett landed uppercut twice to face. Corbett missed right uppercut for face and sent three rights to face and jaw. Eddie ducked. In a mix Corbett sent right to chin and a hard swing to ear. Fighting without result. Corbett planted a right and left on the face as the bell rang.

Round 4—Corbett came with upswing and proposed to jab at Hanlon's face. They fought fiercely in a mixup both landing lefts and rights to body. Hanlon planted his right to the kidneys of the champion who appeared to be slowing down a bit. He sent in a straight right and left to face and followed with the right to the ear. Corbett sent a light straight left to jaw and protected himself cleverly from return. Corbett ducked a right swing and gave Eddie a smart rap with right to the jaw. Corbett missed a right swing and Hanlon drove a hard left to body. In-fighting followed. Corbett protecting himself. Corbett rushed as the round closed and failed to land.

Round 5—Both missed lefts for face and Corbett swings right to the jaw. Hanlon retaliated with a light uppercut to jaw. Both swing hard with rights neither landing. In a mix Corbett uppercut right to body. In the break-away Hanlon landed a hard right on the head. Corbett then sent Eddie to the ropes with a clean right to the jaw, remarking "How do you like that?" Hanlon got in a right uppercut to the body. Corbett struck very low and was warned by the referee to be careful. Hanlon had the best of it. They hung on and as the gong rang both landed rights to jaw. Corbett willingly took blows in order to land on his opponent. The pace continues fast.

Round 6—Corbett led with left for head three times but was blocked. Both men did considerable talking. Hanlon stopped the champion's talk with a succession of rights and lefts to jaw and complained that Corbett was holding him. Furious in-fighting followed. Hanlon doing the better work. Hanlon landed right and left in this mix-up. Corbett continued to talk to Hanlon fighting at the same time. Corbett missed a right to the head and landed another right swing on back of head. Mix followed but no damage was done. Corbett was anxious to mix it all the time but when Hanlon went after him right and left in Corbett's anatomy, finding that the Denver boy was willing to meet him more than half way Hanlon would let go.

Round 7—Corbett began talking at once and Eddie put a left to his face. Corbett countered with a hard right swing to ear. Both men gave a remarkable exhibition of blocking and protecting themselves. The referee once more cautioned Corbett for hitting low. Corbett then got in a good right to head and followed with two lefts to ear. In a mix Corbett swung a right and left to head and evaded Hanlon's attempt to counter. Hanlon put two short arm licks to the face and swinging hard with the left sent the champion to the floor. He got up instantly and then fought hard. Hanlon sent right and left to head. Hanlon had lashed out and caught Corbett in the jaw and floored him. When the gong sounded both men were fighting furiously.

Round 8—Corbett was more careful and the smile had gone from his face. He mixed and chopped a right to head and followed it with a left to face. Hanlon followed him round the ring sending a straight left to face and right to jaw that staggered Corbett. Corbett swung wildly and got another left on the jaw from Hanlon that hurt him. Corbett got in a left swing on the jaw. Hanlon backed Corbett to the ropes and in a mix Corbett put several hard lefts and rights to the face with force enough to knock an ordinary man down, but Hanlon only smiled. When Corbett came up he commenced a swing but was withheld. Hanlon knocked him upon the ropes. Corbett landed with great force with right and left swings on Hanlon's jaw, but they only made Hanlon fight harder.

Round 9—After a mixup Corbett landed a hard left swing to face. He tried right and left swings but they were blocked. Hanlon blocked hard right swing for the face and then got inside of right and left swings for the body. Eddie put a light left to face and they clinched. Corbett got in a right uppercut to the chin which only made Hanlon more vicious. Hanlon has large capacity for taking punishment that would knock an ordinary man down.

Round 10—Corbett missed a right uppercut for the jaw. A moment later Hanlon sent a right uppercut to the chin and they hung to each other, both talking, and Hanlon waded in with right and left for the head but was blocked. In the break-away both exchanged rights and lefts to face. Corbett planted his left to face and followed with right uppercut for jaw. Hanlon sent Corbett back with right high on head that did no damage. In a clinch Hanlon planted a left hard to the stomach and the gong rang.

Round 11—Hanlon struck short for the jaw. Corbett then sent a straight left to stomach. Hanlon countered the blow with a right swing to the jaw and followed it with one to the stomach. Hanlon got in two straight jabs to the face. Hanlon was now doing the leading. Corbett sent a right to face and Eddie retaliated with a left hard on the jaw. Corbett was leaning against Hanlon coming up with short left swing on Hanlon's jaw. Hanlon got in a right swing to jaw and Corbett staggered Hanlon with right and left to jaw. They were leaning shoulder to shoulder both jabbing at face and stomach with Corbett apparently having the advantage.

Round 13—They rushed into a mixup and in the break-away Corbett landed a hard right swing. He then missed a hard left for the jaw. They mixed, both swinging and land with right and left. They stood shoulder to shoulder fighting like demons landing lefts on jaw. Corbett sent left and right to jaw and right to stomach. Hanlon looked groggy for the first time and hobbled a bit. Corbett kept after Hanlon and they still fought shoulder to shoulder. Hanlon hanging on. This was Corbett's round. He stood with his head against Hanlon's breast swinging his right to stomach and right to jaw. If Corbett could have got him to stand back he would have knocked him out.

Round 14—They assumed the same tactics. Corbett pushing right and left to the stomach. Hanlon fought back hard and landed two swings to the head. He then sent Corbett back with a right to jaw staggering the champion. Corbett sent Hanlon to the floor with two lefts on the jaw. He was down nine seconds. They went into mixup and Corbett planted a right and left to jaw. Corbett stood pegging away at Hanlon forcing him to the ropes. The gong apparently saved Hanlon from the knockout. Hanlon stood still, covered his face and body with his gloves and Corbett punched him as hard as he could.

Round 15—Corbett tried several lefts to face with long range blows. He missed a hard right for body and another for face. Eddie then sent a straight left to the face. Corbett jabbed Hanlon with the left on face, Hanlon being content to rest. Hanlon missed a hard left swing for the jaw and the champion put a straight right to the face. Corbett then caught Hanlon with right and left to stomach and right uppercut to the chin that sent Hanlon's head back. He waded in and landed right and left on Corbett's jaw. The referee asked Hanlon's seconds to take their charge out of the ring but they refused. Hanlon is taking a most terrific beating with gameness seldom seen. He could not fight back effectively and could hardly protect himself.

Round 16—Corbett missed a hard right uppercut for the face but a moment later sent the Californian to the floor with right and left to the jaw. Hanlon took the count of nine. He then clung to Corbett the latter trying vainly to knock him out. Corbett then delivered an avalanche of blows on Eddie's jaw sending him back against the ropes, and as he refused to be knocked out, Referee Graney then interfered and awarded the decision to Corbett. Hanlon said "You can lick them all." When he went to his corner Hanlon was attacked with severe vomiting.

Gardner and Hart to Meet.
Boston Mass., Dec. 30.—Followers of pugilism in Boston are looking forward to seeing a rattling good fight at the Criterion Athletic club tonight. The star event on the program is to be a fifteen round go between George Gardner, who seeks regain the laurels he lost by his recent defeat at the hands of Fitzsimmons, and Marvin Hart, the Louisville pugilist, who is anxious to add to his reputation already won by his good showing against "Kid" Carter and other good men of his class. The two fighters are trained to the minute and appear to be in condition to put up a lively battle from start to finish.

PROMINENT INVESTORS
From Iowa Will Probably Buy Roswell Real Estate.

J. M. Cash, of Iowa City, Iowa, who has been in the Valley for a few days on a prospecting trip, was here yesterday and left on the evening train for Artesia. He is a prominent real estate man of Iowa City and will likely invest some money in Pecos Valley real estate. He was accompanied here by his partners in the real estate business, Messrs. S. A. Coldren and D. F. Sawyer of Iowa City, the firm being the Cash-Coldren Co. All three of the gentlemen are in Artesia at the present time, but will return here in a few days. They will very likely invest in Roswell real estate before they leave for home. They are all highly pleased with the Pecos Valley and are of the opinion that we have a wonderful future. The favorable opinion of as solid men as these is worth something.
